

Wisconsin Mutual
Insurance Company

At WMI we pride ourselves on servicing our insureds with honesty and integrity. We want our insureds to know that we appreciate your business and trust that you will be treated fairly and respectfully.

Partnering with businesses that have similar values is important to WMI and can make life a lot easier for our insureds if a vehicle is left inoperable. Additionally, we want to partner with companies that have fair pricing practices so that we can maintain fair and consistent pricing for our insureds.

In an August 2012 report, the Property Casualty Insurers Association of America (PCI) estimated that abusive towing and storage practices cost consumers and insurers $570 million a year.

The average crash-related towing and storage fee in 2010 was $412 per car insurance claim – $228 for towing and $185 for storage. PCI says the average should be closer to about $150 a vehicle, according to what is the “usual and customary” tow and storage fee per vehicle after an accident.

Items to consider if your vehicle needs to be towed:

- Your Auto policy must be active and comprehensive and/or collision coverage applies to the damaged automobile described on your declaration page for towing to be covered.
- If your tow is NOT accident related, then towing coverage must show on your declarations page in regards to “Towing & Labor/Emergency Road Service Coverage.”
- Call the provider nearest to your loss location, provide your insurance card for review if requested, and have the vehicle towed to body shop or residence.
- Remember that you have a choice on who to call and where your car is towed to.
